The Bug Busters Coding Club, Department of CSE, successfully organized the “40 Minutes – 40 Python Coding Challenge” in Room No. 121. Students attempted a series of Python programming problems within a limited time, testing their coding speed, accuracy, logical thinking, and problem-solving abilities. The activity provided an engaging competitive learning experience and helped students strengthen their programming skills, time management, and ability to perform under pressure.

Alumni Meet

08 March 2026

The Alumni Meet brought together former students, faculty members, and current students in a warm and engaging gathering. Alumni shared their experiences, career journeys, and valuable guidance, inspiring students and strengthening the bond between the institution and its alumni.

Prompt Engineering Workshop

19 March 2026

A technical workshop on Prompt Engineering was conducted by Miss Sweta, Department of CSE, to introduce students to the effective use of Generative AI tools. The session focused on designing clear, structured, and context-specific prompts to obtain more accurate and meaningful AI-generated responses. Through practical examples, students explored different prompting techniques and their applications in learning, coding, problem-solving, and content generation. The workshop provided hands-on exposure to emerging AI technologies and encouraged students to use Generative AI effectively and responsibly.

Machine Learning Workshop

24 March 2026

A workshop on Microsoft Machine Learning Tool was conducted by Prof. Nikhil Kumar, Department of CSE, offering students an introduction to machine learning through Microsoft's technology ecosystem. The session covered key concepts and demonstrated how machine learning tools can be utilized to build intelligent solutions and work with real-world data. Students gained practical insights into the workflow involved in developing and exploring machine learning models, along with an understanding of its growing applications across various fields. The workshop served as a valuable learning experience, giving participants an opportunity to explore AI-driven technologies and their practical potential.

Wireless Sensor Networks Workshop

30 March 2026

An informative workshop on Wireless Sensor Networks was conducted by Prof. Arvind Kumar, Department of CSE, introducing students to the fundamentals, architecture, and applications of sensor-based communication systems. The session provided insights into how interconnected sensor nodes collect, process, and transmit data, along with their applications in areas such as IoT, smart systems, environmental monitoring, and automation.

Intellectual Property Rights Session

30 March 2026

An informative session on Intellectual Property Rights (IPR) was conducted by Prof. Naiyer Hoda, Department of CSE, with the aim of familiarizing students with the importance of protecting original ideas, innovations, and creative works. The session covered essential aspects of intellectual property, including patents, copyrights, trademarks, and the significance of safeguarding innovative work. Students gained a better understanding of how IPR contributes to encouraging creativity and innovation while providing legal protection to creators and inventors. The session offered valuable awareness of the role of intellectual property in academics, research, entrepreneurship, and the technology sector.
